

At American National Bank, we believe in giving back to the communities we serve. For years we have been dedicated to giving philanthropically to a variety of charitable causes, supporting community events, and connecting our employees in volunteer efforts for non-profit organizations. During 2009 we:

- Gave over $865,000 through community sponsorships and donations
- Connected volunteerism with over 3,300 hours

Donald and Susan Sturm, owners of American National Bank, founded The Sturm Family Foundation in 1990, and have supported many philanthropic initiatives. Affordable housing opportunities for low-income families and educational opportunities for children are among their primary goals. The Foundation also helps further higher education opportunities as well as philanthropic efforts in many of the communities American National Bank operates. In 2009, The Sturm Family Foundation:

- Matched $176,221 along with ANB to community sponsorships and donations

American National Bank and The Sturm Family Foundation supported over 550 different organizations and activities in 2009 to include:
